GLS CAMPUS EXTENSION

PREVIOUSLY 9,000 M² – NOW 16,000 M²

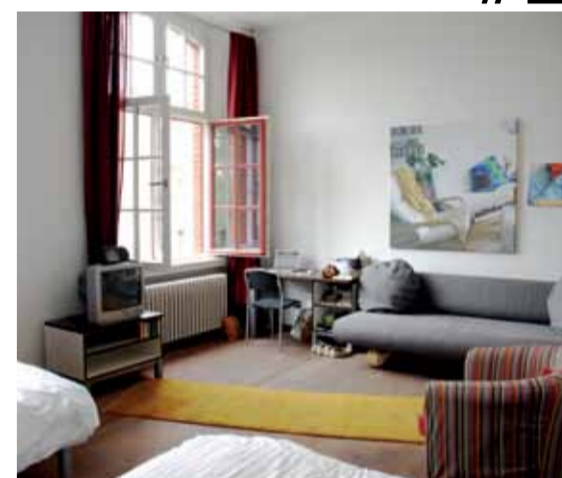

GLS bought and renovated the historic baths "Stadtbad Oderberger," a famous landmark building in Berlin. The baths integrate naturally into the existing GLS campus. The park-like campus now encompasses 16,000 m² and is a green oasis in the very centre of Berlin.

THE NEW BUILDING ON THE GLS CAMPUS

THE HISTORIC BATHS „STADTBAD ODERBERGER“ ARE A BERLIN LANDMARK UNDER MONUMENT PROTECTION.

1898 The famous Berlin architect Ludwig Hoffmann plans the baths.

1902 The baths open – with a pool on the ground floor and private bathing cubicles for rent on the floors above.

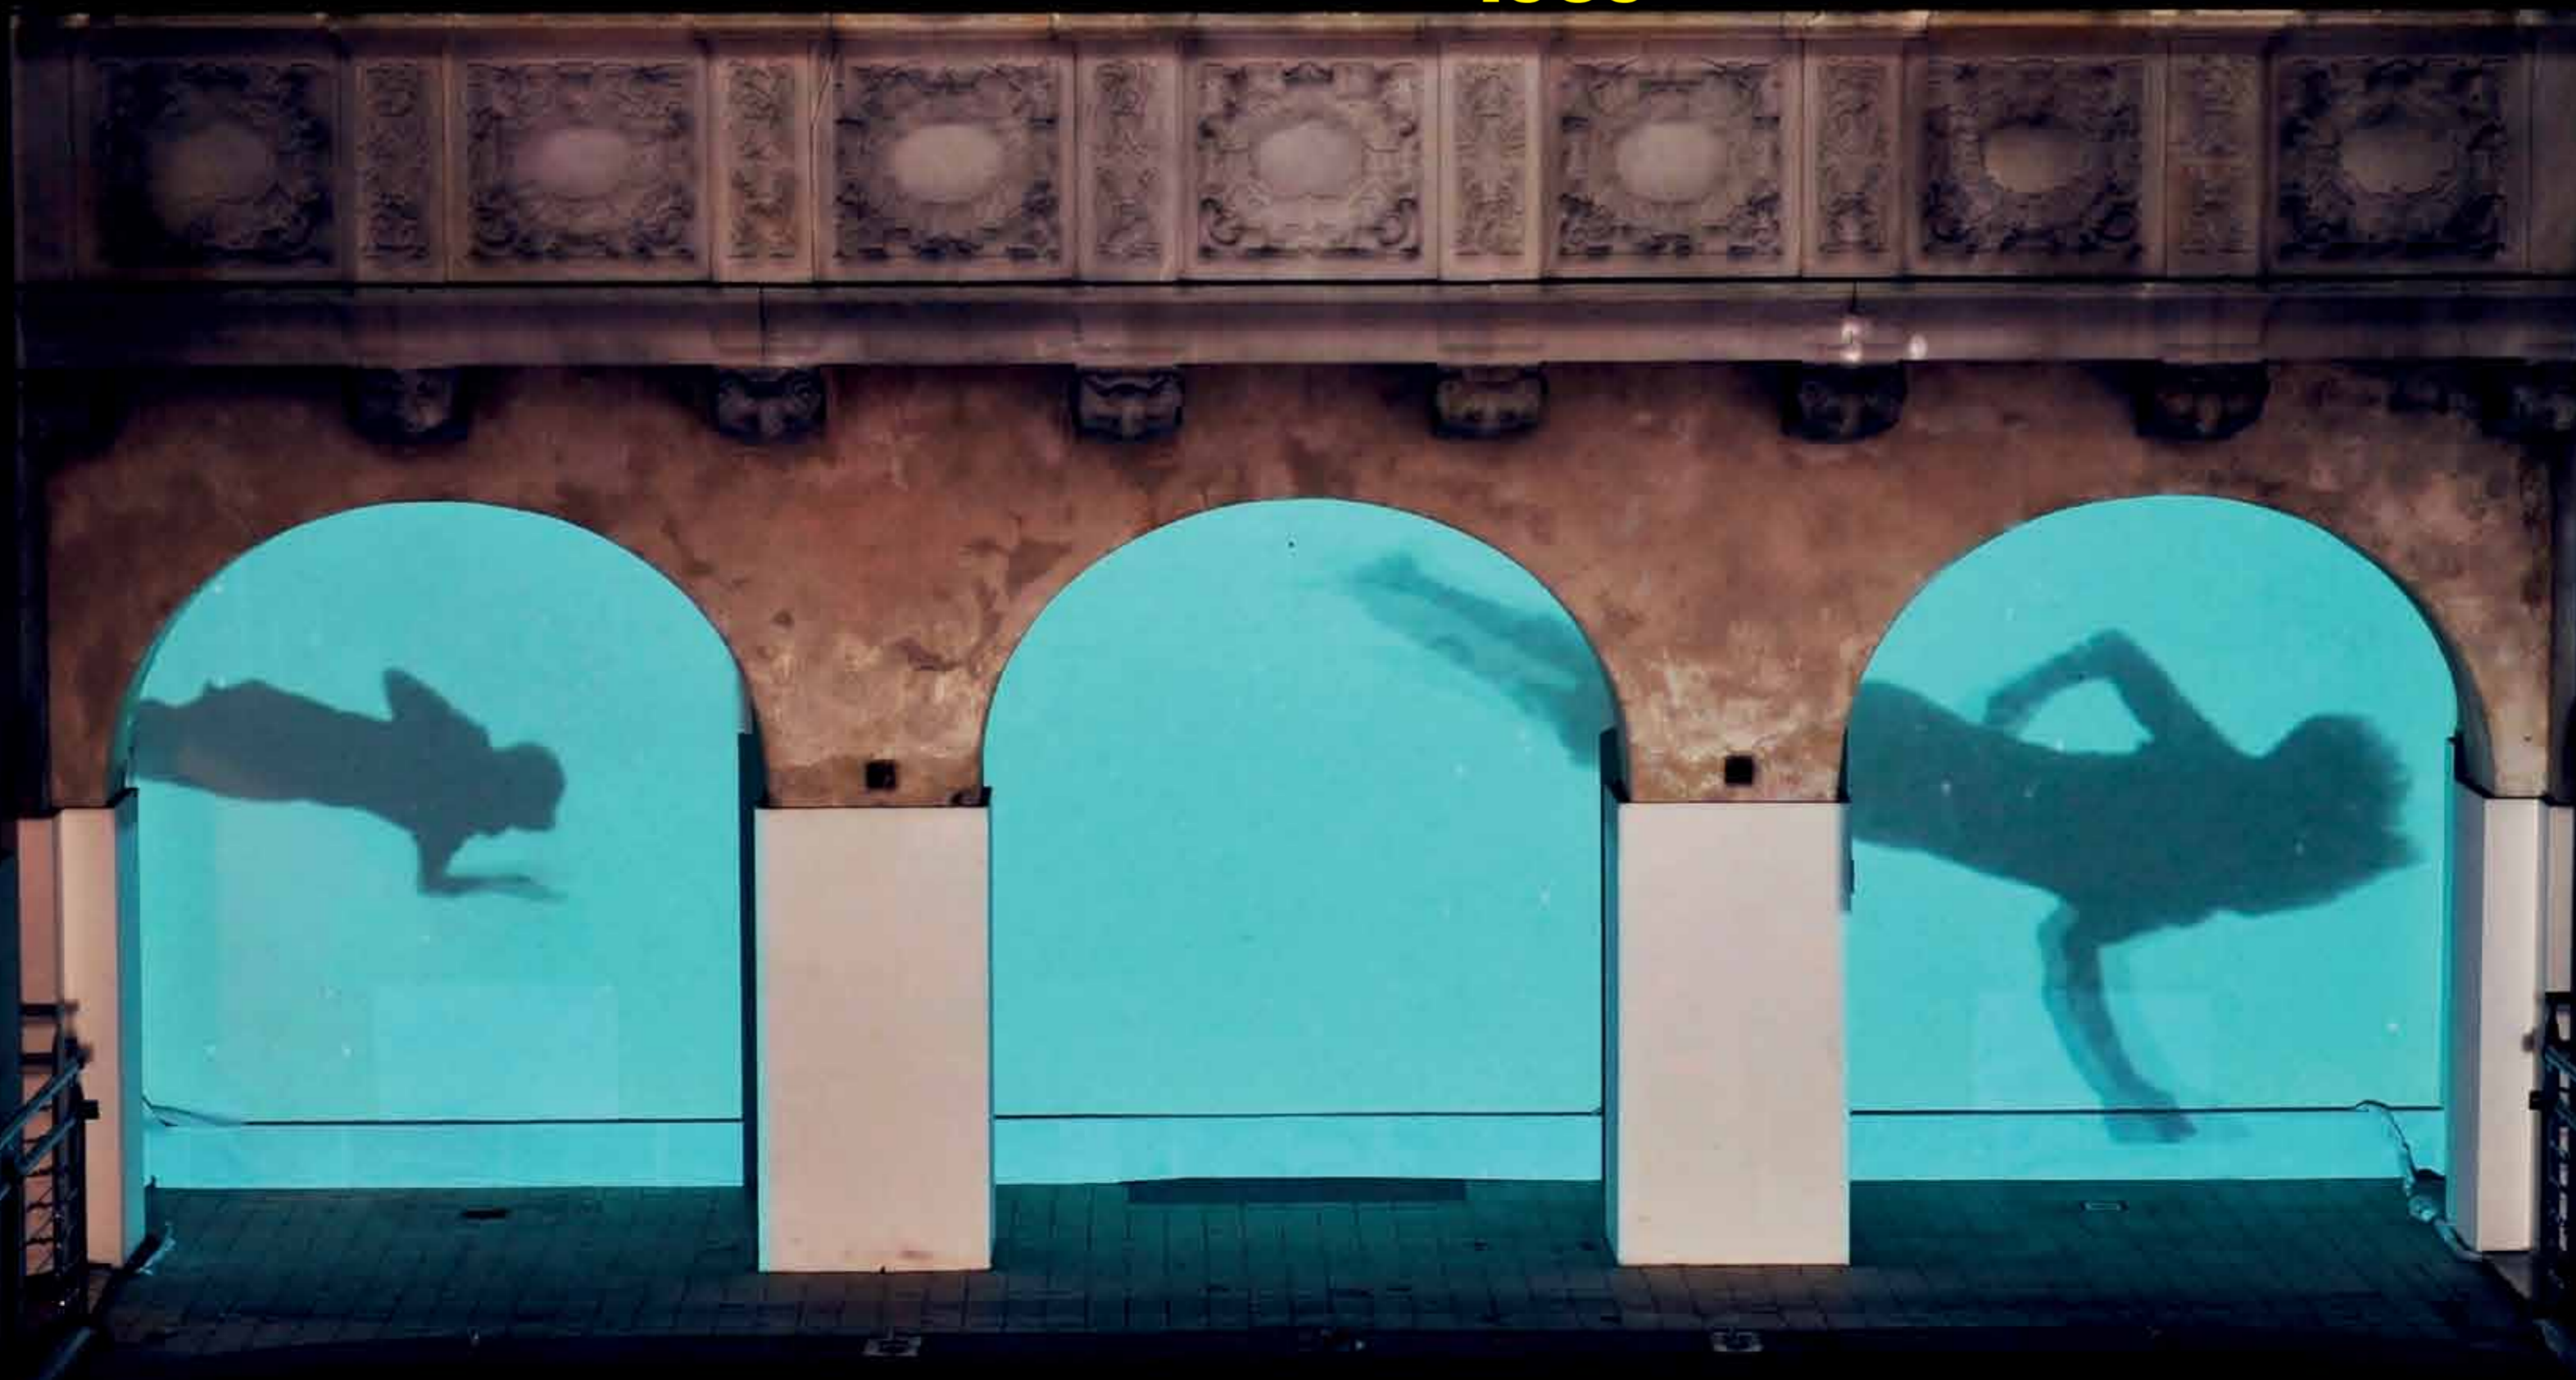

1945 World War II ends, the baths still function.

1986 The communist government in East Berlin closes the baths due to damages in the basin.

1989 The Berlin Wall comes down. Artists use the abandoned baths for art exhibitions and performances.

2011 GLS buys the building and starts renovation.

NEW PREMIUM LINE

IN HISTORIC BATHS
„STADTBAD ODERBERGER“

THE POOL

The building consists of 3 interconnected parts. The one in the middle accommodates the 20 meter pool, the two buildings flanking it house 72 hotel rooms of premium standard. The hotel wings are separated from the pool by open-air patios. The pool is open to the public. GLS clients get preferential rates, guests staying in the adjacent hotel wings can use it for free.

PREMIUM ACCOMMODATION

72 premium hotel rooms, two tower suites. Cool, stylish, elegant.
Use of indoor pool included. Bistro and restaurant in the same building.

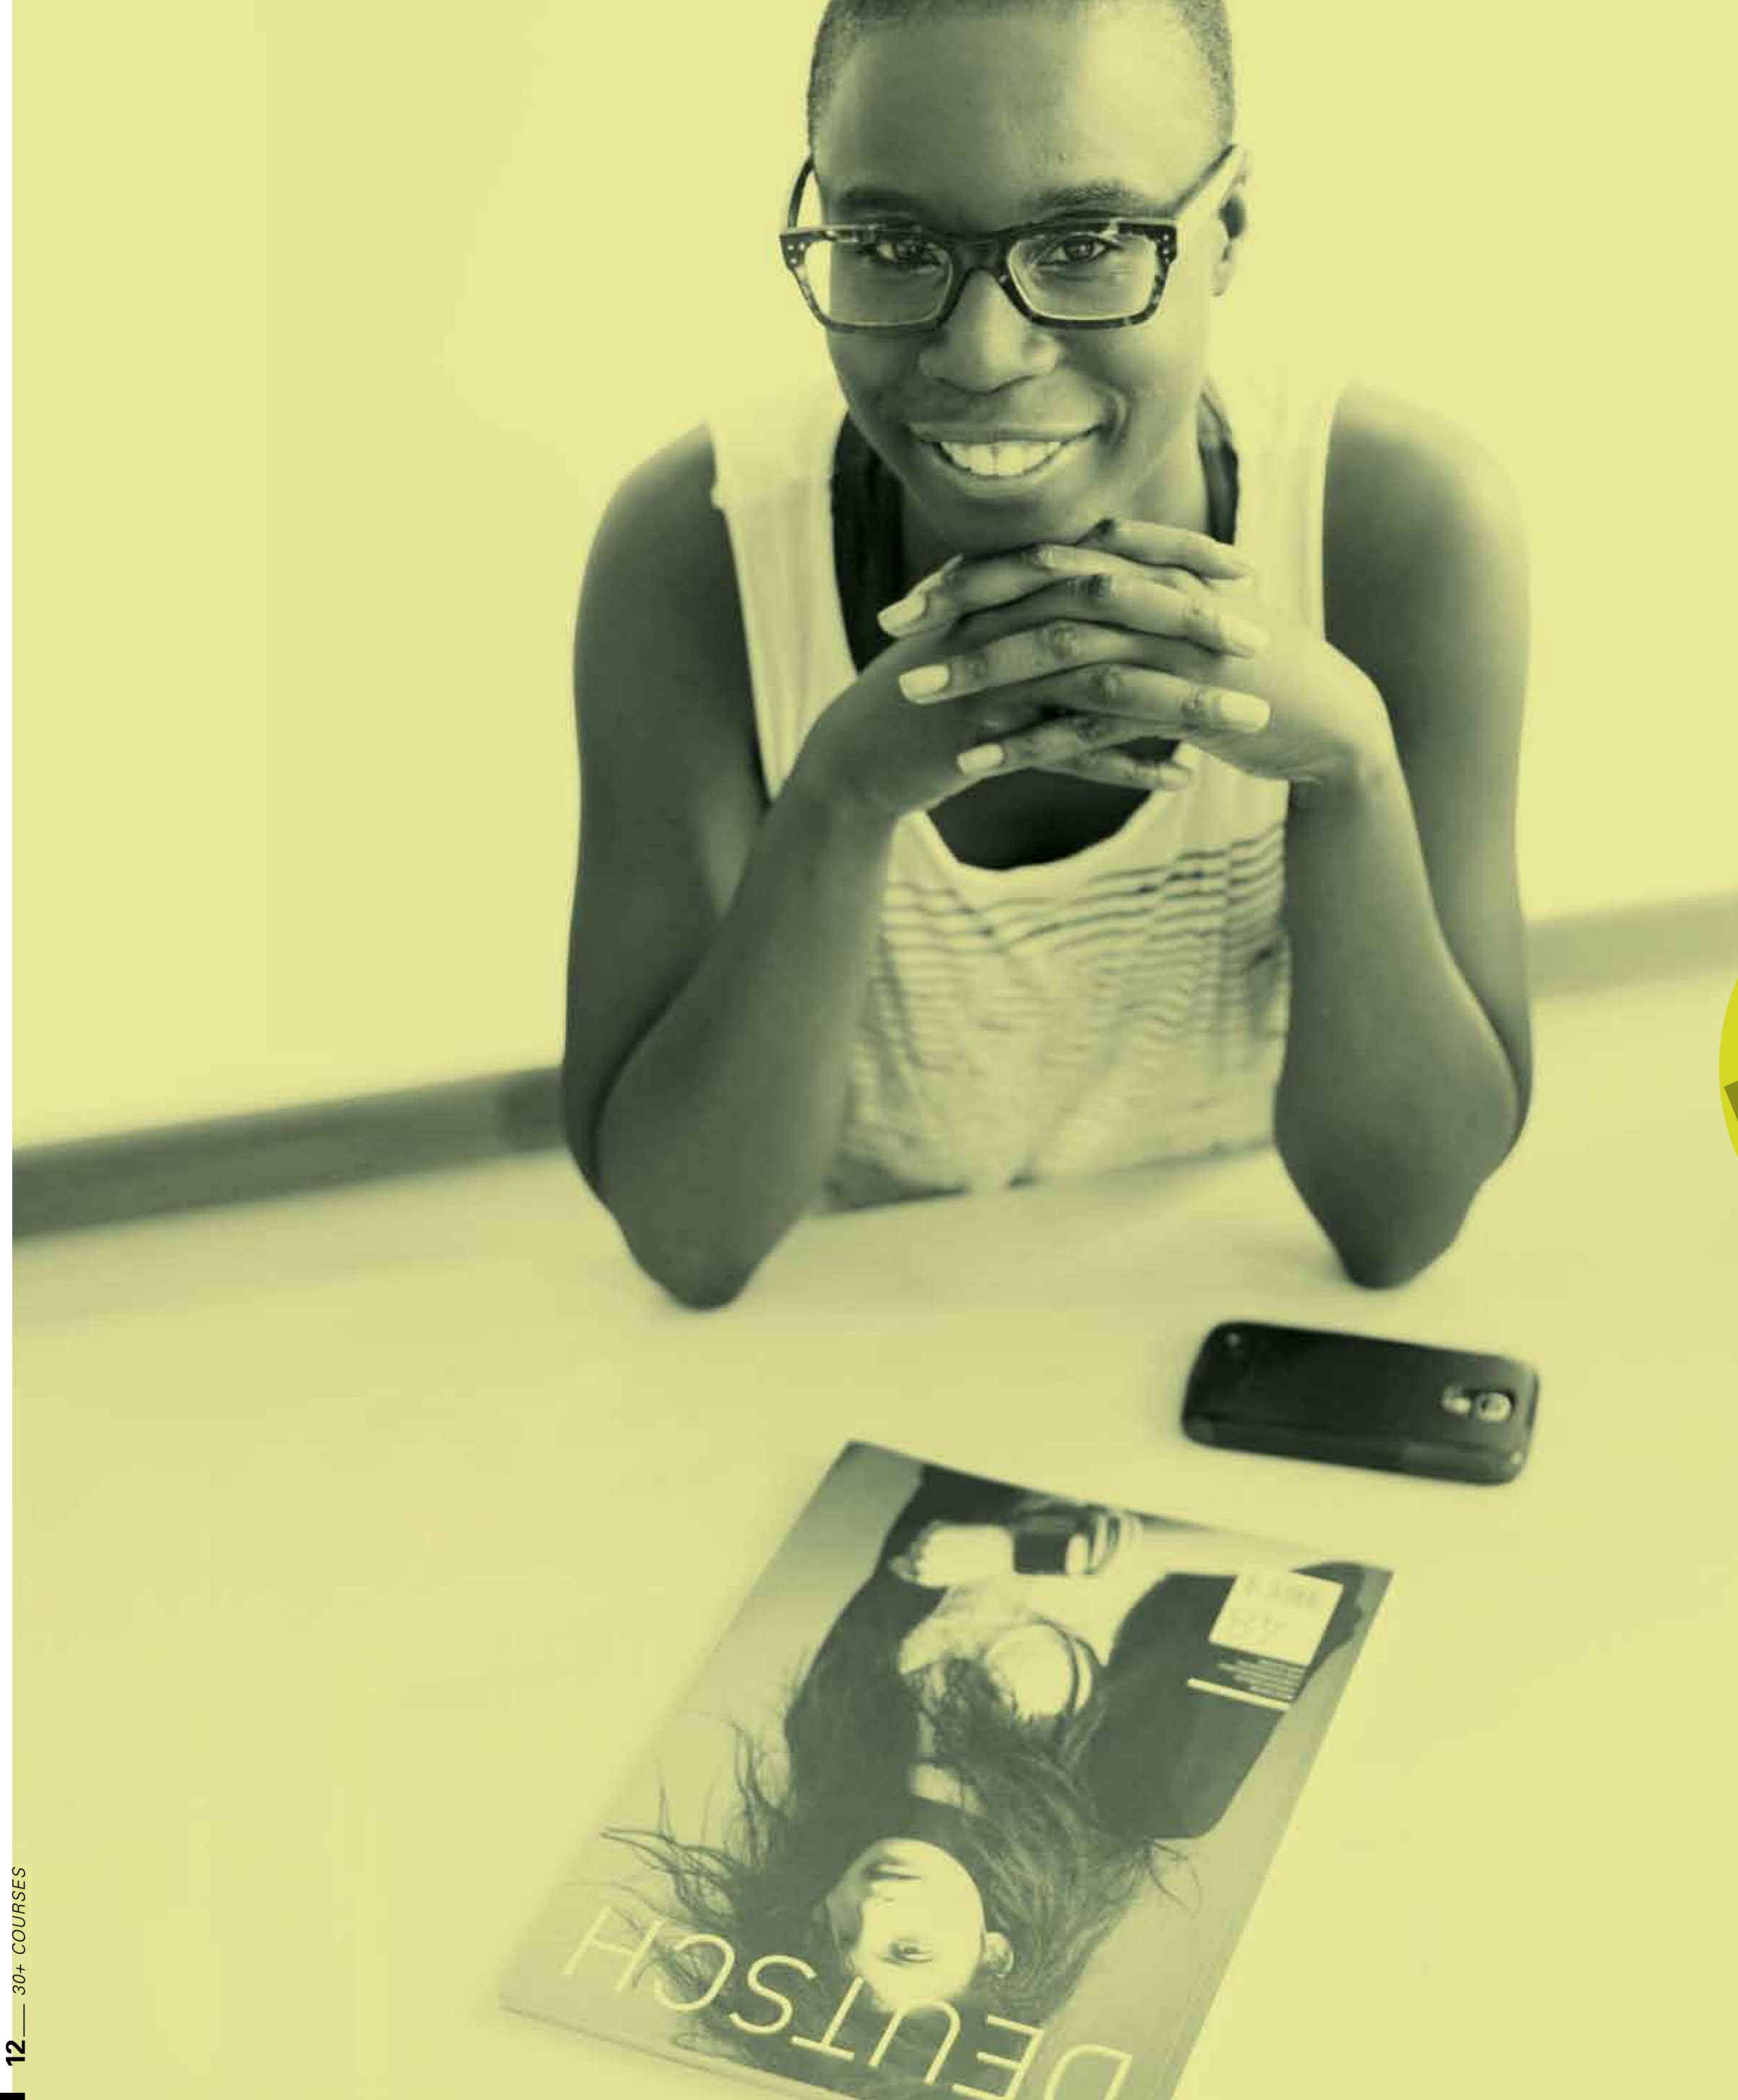

RESTAURANT ON THREE LEVELS

Berlin is famous for its quirky restaurant locations, and GLS will add another one to the list. The restaurant "Oderberger" will open in the baths' former boiler room. With tables on three levels and spectacular views, the restaurant combines fine dining and the rough beauty of industrial architecture. The sketches below give a first impression of the ceiling heights and spaciousness. The restaurant "Oderberger" is the second restaurant on campus, the other one – "Die Schule" – is located on the ground floor of the language school facing Kastanienallee, often considered as the district's catwalk no.1.
